HOUSTON (Apr 13, 3:43pm EDT) – Several players that competed in their respective conference tournament championship games are represented on Dr. Cavil's 2014-2015 HBCU Major Division All-American Team, which 3C Communication of THG Agency announced today. As part of Dr. Cavil's 'Inside the HBCU Huddle: a Weekly HBCU Sports Report,' the Dr. Cavil's 2014-2015 HBCU Major Division and Mid-Major Division All-American team is definitely full of amazing talent. These young collegiate athletes have worked diligently this basketball season for the ultimate prize, a championship, sacrificing their time and individual statistics as well as raising their game to the next level for the good of the team and their respective universities.

While some may have feel short of the ultimate team prize, this is an opportunity for these college athletes to earn personal allocates as members of Dr. Cavil's 2014-2015 HBCU Major Division All-American first team and second team selections. These young men and women have crushed all expectations, and are now noted as some of the best in all of HBCU sporting competition. The off season training that these student-athletes endured clearly enhanced their playing ability, and allowed them to dominate the competition.
